Directions

Start in the lobby of the Chrysler Building – No. 135 42nd Street 1

Take the Lexington Avenue Exit out of the building and turn right. Continue along Lexington for seven blocks. The entrance to the Waldorf is just past 49th Street (Before entering look back for a good view of the Chrysler Building). Go into the Waldorf, up the escalators and through to the main lobby. Stop by the clock in the centre 2

Continue through the hotel and exit at the opposite end to which you entered. Turn right and walk three blocks on Park Avenue. Stop at the plaza with fountains to your right just past 52nd Street – The Seagram building is No. 375 behind the Plaza and Lever House is the rectangular building with glass and green panels diagonally opposite at No. 390 3

Cross the road onto 53rd Street and go East three blocks. Turn left on 5th Avenue and continue for three blocks. Cross over the road so you are on the opposite side to St Patrick's Cathedral and keep going South until you get to a gap in the buildings on the right marked 'promenade' 4a

Walk back the way you came along Fifth Avenue for half a block until you reach the statue of Atlas opposite St Patrick's 4b

Walk back to the 'Promenade' once more and turn right to walk through it. Skirt round the plaza with the statue of Prometheus and enter the GE Building directly in front of you. Stop in the lobby 4c

Continue through the GE building and exit the opposite direction from which you entered, coming out and turning left onto Avenue of the Americas. Continue seven blocks then turn right onto 43rd Street. Turn left onto Broadway and stop by the small US Army recruitment building right in the centre of Times Square, facing the equally tiny New York Police building 5
